VALUE PROPOSITION

Matt brings 18 years of engineering experience leading multi-million-dollar operations, where preparation and decisive action are essential. Throughout my career, I have improved performance by identifying inefficiencies, aligning stakeholders, and implementing practical, data driven solutions in complex environments.

Jordan brings a customer-focused mindset and strong organizational skills.

We recognize that the foundation of a successful business is not solely the systems and processes - but rather the people, relationships and reputation behind it. Our approach is to preserve what is working, support the employees and maintaining the level of service your customers have grown to expect.

Together we are committed to being hands-on long term owners, who will thoughtfully grow the business, while maintaining the core values and quality that made it successful.

PREVIOUS BUSINESS EXPERIENCE

Jordan previously built and managed an online retail store, overseeing all aspects of operations, from setup through sales and customer experience.
